HOW TO PLAY

Use a joystick or the cursor keys on keyboard to navigate in menus. Press the fire button or the spacebar to validate. The "ESC" key allows you to go back in menus.

Main menu

Main menu allows you to choose to play alone or against a friend, to modify the game parameters or to show a fight between two players controlled by the computer. In "Up to 16 players" mode, you have to choose the number of human players (at least 3) and the number of characters played by the computer (up to 13 depending on the number of human players).

Game modes

SINGLE BATTLE: Quick fights. Choose your fighter and start! Perfect to play against a friend and multiply merciless fights.

ARCADE: Confront all the game opponents.

CHAMPIONSHIP: Engage in a tournament that will oppose you to the other fighters. Win as many victories as possible and take the coveted title of World Champion!

SURVIVAL : Fight to death! Each victory gives you just a little more energy! How many time will you survive?

Options

Option menu permits you to choose the number of rounds for each fight (from 2 to 7), to indicate if you want to display special effects on screen (do not display them helps to accelerate the game speed while playing), and you can choose your difficulty level too. Finally, you can decide to choose the arena for the next fight or to use that of player 1 or 2 (SINGLE BATTLE mode only)

Parameters are saved on your floppy disk if it is write unprotected.

In "Up to 16 players" mode, you can decide not to show the fights opposing only non human players. In this case, the computer decides immediatly of a winner and load the next fight.

CONTROLS

The location of the player on character selection screen determinates the control configuration used to play. Player 1 is placed left on the screen and uses Configuration A. Player 2, placed right, uses the Configuration B. Other players follow the same rule. There are several keyboard layouts, this instruction manual show only one.

After selecting your character, you can choose colors and change the name. Use the keyboard to enter the name of your choice and press the "RETURN" key to validate.
